You are bound to get there.

Why Plan?

- Determine who, what, when, where, why and how of a venture
- Understand factors impacting success or failure (systems approach)
- Build ownership (unity) of Mission, Vision, Values and Strategies among constituents
- Distinguish between opportunities & “temptations” (“He who chases two rabbits...”)
- More efficiently use limited resources (people, money, equipment, time, etc.)
- Standard against which to measure performance

Failure to Plan is Planning to Fail

Businesses using strategic plans are 12% more profitable.

60% of organizations don't link strategy
and budgeting

What Does NOT Thinking Critically Look Like?

Blindly...

...reproducing old learned reactions

...accepting face value all justifications of organizations & leaders

...believe TV commercials, Facebook, Twitter, Linked In, Instagram...

...accept and say that if the organization does it, it must be right

...accept that if it is in Wikipedia, it must be true

...if a speaker says it, it must be legitimate

Building a Culture of Critical Thinking

The title is underlined with two horizontal lines, one light green and one yellow. To the right of the lines is a green scribble that resembles a jagged line or a stylized signature.

Do you...

- ... behave as you expect others to behave; are you joyful about it?
- ... foster questions?
- ... promote trial periods?
- ... ask for clarity?
- ... check for understanding?
- ... celebrate change or improvement?
- ... start with what is right?
- ... use data to make a decision?
- ... play to strengths and manage weaknesses?
